

MPCAC-accredited programs are required to provide program data, as listed below, each fall for the previous academic year. Additionally, programs are required to post those data on their respective websites (links to those data are provided for each program on the Status of Programs: Accredited Programs page). To enhance transparency for the public regarding information about MPCAC-accredited programs, MPCAC aggregates the data to enable comparisons of individual programs with the aggregated data across all MPCAC-accredited programs.

Annual Program Data	2017-2018	2018-2019	2019-2020	2020-2021	2021-2022
of accredited programs reporting	50	55	61	58	61
Mean # of applicants	87.88	92.1	96.7	121.39	129.5
% of applicants accepted	57.4%	50.0%	57.7%	48.27%	45.4%
Mean # of acceptances	51.28	48.8	50.3	58.59	58.8
% of applicants accepted who matriculated	67.2%	53.0%	65.6%	52.3%	54.3%
Mean # of newly matriculated students	28.9	26.8	28.0	30.66	31.9
Mean # of total students	67.16	63.6	69.93	72.09	76.8
Mean # graduates in last academic year	21.77	19.5	22.6	23.21	24
Mean # of core faculty	8.04	7.5	8.07	7.58	7.74
Mean student: faculty ratio	8.4:1	8.4:1	8.67	9.50	9.31
% of students who started the program who graduated in 5 years	–	84%	85.9%	86%	87.20%
% of courses taught by adjuncts	27.7%	32.8%	33.4%	29%	31.1%
% of graduates who graduated 1-3 years ago receiving full license or credential*	48.0%	45.6% (N = 40)	51.8% (N = 45)	52% (N = 44)	61.29% (N=49)
% of graduates in past year who received certification or license as school counselor	47.6%	50.2% (N = 9)	57.3% (N = 12)	71% (N = 11)	71% (N=11)

of programs that did not report data	2 institutions 3 programs	3 institutions 3 programs	None	None
--	------------------------------	------------------------------	------	------

* Full licensure typically takes at least 2 years to obtain; therefore, these numbers are based on those who graduated 1-3 years before the year data were collected.

 School Counseling programs report the percent of their graduates who receive certification as school counselors.